NEW YORK, Dec. 27 .- (AP)-The oviet program for the purchase of soviet program for the purchase of American goods, it was learned reliably tonight, is being rapidly developed in conjunction with the general buying budget for the second five-year plan.

The extent of these purchases depends on two things:

1. Satisfactory credit arrangements.

2. The removal of obstacles to soviet exports to the United States.

The soviet position on these two points was enunciated by a higher soviet official in the United States:

"It would be difficult to increase substantially our purchases in this country before the existing restrictions on the importation of soviet products is cleared up and assurance country before the existing restrictions on the importation of soviet products is cleared up and assurance is received that there will be no special obstacles placed in their way.

"It is scarcely necessary for me to state that any large scale development of purchases in this country is dependent on the availability of acceptable financial arrangements."

The question of import restrictions, it was pointed out, undoubtedly will be removed with the establishment of consulates in Russia and by some sort of a trade agreement.

There has been no definite discussions on credits.

sions on credits.

These await the arrival of Alexander A. Troyanovsky, the soviet ambassador, and the Russian trade combassador, and the Russian trade com-missioner, yet to be selected.

All likelihood points to Ivan Boyeff as the trade commissioner. He is well known to American financiers and industrialists and made a long visit here last winter. The commissioner would supervise generally trade matters in the United States. However, it was said, the duties and work of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, the soviet business agency, would remain.

In Ouija Board Death

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 27.—(P)
Investigators, seeking a motive for the angle-iron slaying of 15-year-old Hubbard H. Harris Jr., today considered the possibility the high school football player had been lured away in a ransom plot, and had been killed to prevent his escape.

They traced down a report that a man resembling Robert H. Wiles, unemployed auto mechanic and former race track driver, whom they quoted as confessing the slaying, had sought to buy a cheap mattress two days before the boy was abducted on his birthday Saturday.

In his purported confession, as announced by officers, Wiles was quoted as saying he beat the boy to death in an abandoned farm house 12 miles from here after the lad had grown suspicious and had struck him in an attempt to get away.

Sheriff T. Alex Heise disclosed that furniture salesman, Sam Stephens, had volunteered the information that Yules resembled the would-be purchaser of a mattress, The officers said this tended to support the kidnaping theory on the ground that it was planned to tie the boy upon the mattress during ransom negotiations.

John M. Rushton, who was formerly employed as a meat cutter in one of the chain stores managed by the boy's father, Hubbard H. Harris, was still held at the state penitentiary, while officers check: his movements of Friday and Saturday.

Business in Columbia was suspended today as funeral services were held for young Harris. Ten members of his football team, which he quarterbacked, served as honorary pallbearers. After services in the church he attended, about 2:500 spectators witnessed his burial. There was no demonstration.

Young Harris was a former resident of Macon, Ga. The slain youth moved with his family to South Carolina about seven years ago.

Mrs. Rasmussen had gone to the office with her 18-year-old daughter, Olive. She said she intended to urge Dr. Doria to stop his assertedly excessive drinking. The physician gave Olive a prescription which he said was for a drinking cure.

The decision was announced by the board, consisting of Governor Henry Horner, State Treasurer John C. Martin and State Auditor Edward J. Barrett, at its annual meeting. A year ago the levy board increased the state tax from 35 to 50 cents on each $100 assessed property valuation. "Thus Illinois for the first time in 115 years has been able to relieve real estate and personal property of the state tax." said Governor Horner. "The elimination of the state tax ifts a burden of approximately $35,ifts a burden of approximately $35, 000.000 from the taxpayers in 1934."

The reduction was made possible by the decision of the Illinois supreme court last week holding the sales tax law constitutional. Otherwise, board members said, the 1934 tax would have been at least 70 cents because of reduced valuations.

ROOSEVELT MAPS CONGRESS PLANS

President and Aids Explore New Fields in Preparing Program.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.-(AP)-President Roosevelt scanned his entire recovery campaign and explored new fields of effort today, preliminary to drafting his program for congress, meeting a week hence.

Once again primary attention centered on the budget and disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt was going to focus principal attention of congress on that subject. Conferences were renewed with Acting Secretary Morgenthau and Director Douglas of the budget. For two hours the president carefor two hours the president carefully canvassed the recovery campaign with his executive council and there was every indication tonight that he intended to stand on the present program without material change for an-

The status of the arms embargo legislation is not so clear cut. It was sent to Capitol Hill last spring as an administration measure, was given hearings but when the final gavel fell the measure was in the limbo of dead bills.

At the time it was sent to the capitol by the White House, Japan and China were in controversy over the occupancy of Manchuria and reports were being brought to bear to stop the shipment of arms to the warring countries.

Included in the list of nominations the senate must consider are several federal judges and collectors of customs.

Among the departmental appointments to be confirmed are two assistant secretaries of state, R. Walton Moore, to succeed Raymond Moley, and F. B. Sayre, son-in-law of the late President Wilson, to succeed Harry F. Payer. It also is expected that the reappoinment of Sumer Welles as an assistant secretary, following his term as ambassador to Cuba, will necessitate confirmation. The present delegates to Cuba, Jefferson Caffery, has the standing of a "special representative of the president," in view of the non-recognition of the present Cuban government.

Included in the list of diplomatic nominations awaiting confirmation are representatives for Albania, Austria, Bolivia, Bulgaria, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Egypt, Estonia, Latvia-Lithuiana Finland, Irish Free State, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Persia, Siam and Yugo-Slavia. The ministers to these countries were named by Mr. Roosevelt after congress adjourned.

While the appointments of the chiefs of the several recovery agencies do not require senate confirmation, several minor posts in the organizations need approval by the senate, including three commissionerships, in the farm credit administration.

Government Suspends Obligation Pending Examination of Chase Debt.

HAVANA Dec. 27.—(P)—The Cuban government decided today not to pay more than $2,000,000 on certificates due Monday on a $20,000.000 bond issue originally sponsored by the Chase National bank.

Minister of the Treasury Manuel Despaigne said "We are not repudiating the debt, but are merely suspending payment until the whole situation can be discussed thoroughly with the officials of the Chase bank in order to determine which part, if any, of the debt is legal."

President Grau San Martin told bank officials that the obligation was "illegitimate," since the deposed president, Gerardo Machado, contracted it.

GERMAN ARMY CHIEF

GIVES UP COMMAND BERLIN, Dec. 27.—(P)—Baron Curt Von Hammerstein-Equord, chief of the German army since November 1, 1930, and close friend of former Chancellor Kurt Von Schleicher, re-

Chancellor Kurt Von Schleicher, resigned his post today.

President Von Hindenburg accepted the resignation immediately and promoted Von Hammerstein from the rank of general of infantry to colonel-general as an expression of the nation's thanks for services.

The resignation becomes effective February 1, 1934.

any member of his command was anything less than perfect. The officers and the men knew this and respected and loved him for it.

Public expressions of grief came from scores from the highest to the lowest in rank.

Generals, colonels and officers of lesser rank were moved to tears and to statements calling his loss the greatest possible.

He was a member of the law firm of Howell, Heyman & Bolding, which he helped to found many years ago as Dorsey & Howell. He was born 67 years ago, the son of Captain and Mrs. Evan P. Howell. His father, editor of The Constitution for many years, aided in the rebuilding of Atlanta after the War Between the States.

Mr. Howell formerly had been president of The Constitution Publishing Company. He was chairman of the Fulton county democratic executive committee for a number of years, and was prominent in the social life of the city.

Apartment Building Is Damaged by Fire

Trash on a stairway ignited by defective wiring resulted in heavy fire and water damage to a 16-unit apartment building at 1028 St. Charles avenue, N. E., early Wednesday afternoon, according to firemen who extinguished the blaze after a fight of more than an hour.

The flames started in a rear apartment of the U-shaped structure and spread rapidly until checked by three fire companies directed by Assistant Chief William Fain. The apartment is owned by J. W. Jenkins, who resides on Boulevard, and all the units were occupied. The majority of the occupants were absent at the time of the fire and everyone in the building escaped without injury.

POLICE SEEK BANDITS WHO ROBBED SCOTTS

County police Wednesday were searching for two armed bandits who held up Mrs. Trammell Scott and her two daughters in their home at 2888 Habersham road Sunday night and took a large amount of jewelry and other valuables. The bandits escaped under fire from Major Trammell Scott, who returned to the house from the garage just after the robbers left the premises.

The Scott family had just returned home from a visit with friends, and Major Scott was putting up the car while Mrs. Scott and the children went into the house, only to meet two armed men coming downstairs from an upper floor after looting the place. Major Scott, reaching the house and learning of the robbery, obtained his pistol and fired at the bandits' car as it raced down Habersham road, but without apparent effect.

News Behind the News

BUSINESS WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Happy New Year is such a hackneyed phrase, it has lost the ring of sincerity, but the business chart for December sings it out in a voice which carries some conviction. The chart shows certain firmly rooted hopes for 1934, better hopes than we have had for four years past. You could not get a snappier New Year's card than that.

What has happened is that our widely advertised fall improvement failed to occur, and in place of it we have had a sound restoration of business equilibrium. At the turn of the year our figures are only about 10 per cent better than last December, but we are 50 per cent better off be-

DARK SIDE The first thing which should strike your eye is that the steady decline in industrial production since July was stopped in December.

That is largely due to the sharp activity in steel during the last two weeks. The steel mills had to clear up their orders before January 1 under the codes. Textiles and all the consumers' goods industries are down, largely because of stocks on hand. Electrical production also is off slightly. Lumber is about the only thing which increased with steel.

Automobile production is getting started so late that the impetus of that industry will not be felt before January. These declines in production since September have been accompanied by weakening of factory employment and factory pay

SUNNY SIDE These things would be alarming were it not for the fact that there is inside evidence that the readjustment period is over and business is getting ready for a Mr. Roosevelt's economists have discovered there is sharp activity in the manufacture of tools for industry. That is a first sign of greater industrial production to come. At the same time they know the automobile industry is making optimistic plans which will bring an improvement in that industry and in steel from January to April. Similarly the retailers had a good Christmas season (possibly 18 per cent better nationally in dollar volume than last year.) Their stocks are depleted. They must replenish. At the same time the public works and CWA programs are accomplishing a small but important strengthening of purchasing

NRA You can check up on the NRA fairly well from the table. Unquestionably it helped to restore a proper relationship of employment and production, but it has not done so much for wages. You will notice that in recent months wages have de-clined a little faster than employment declined, and they are still 20 per cent out of line.

A fair statement would be that the NRA theory has been helpful and necessary, but it has accomplished far less than it set out to accomplish.

BUILDING The building contracts figure places a somewhat more favorable light on that phase than is war-

That industry usually has a seasonal setback in November and December. This year it did not, largely because the public works was pumping money out at a better rate. All contracts awarded in November amounted to $162,000,000, an increase of $17,000,000 over October. The increased outlay for public works was $18,000,000, so actually the private building industry suffered a setback of a million dollars. However, Interior Secretary Ickes, for the first time since he started, was able to put out more than a hundred million dollars in one month. The exact figure for November was $104,000,000, or five-eighths of all the building contracts awarded that month. The really bright feature in private building was an unexplained increase in residential construction from $21,500,000 in October to $23,600,000 in November. . Of that amount $5,000,000 went for dormitories (CCC). Advocates of large building programs as a relief measure will find little cause for cheering, even in Mr. Ickes' improved figure. When you break down his $104,000,000 November expenditure, you find $50,000,000 of it went for highways and $45,740,000 for waterfront developments. That leaves less than ten millions actually spent on public building construction.

His expenditures have been increasing each month and should contribute greater impetus to the spring rise.

CENSORSHIP If the administration is doing any censoring of statistics, it is not yet apparent.

Madame Perkins at the labor department gave out the wages and employment figures which certainly did not go the way she would like to make them go. The same is true of industrial production figures from the federal reserve board.

Editor Constitution: I commend in the highest terms your two fine editorials in your paper of December 25, 1933. The first headed "Congress Will Approve," and the other headed 'Christmas, 1933."

The statements in these editorials are absolutely true as to the great changes for the better that have been brought about by the wise administration of President Roosevelt and the people of the United States ought to uphold him in all of his noble efforts to better the conditions of the needy and worthy in every state.

From my observation and information this has been the finest Christmas we have had since 1928 and a great many of our citizens, who needed work are being employed and a great number who are worthy and in needy circumstances have been fed and clothed.

In other words, the policies being inaugurated and carried out by our president have brought about new economic conditions that have brightened many homes and cheered many who were down and nearly out. The administration of our president has not only wrought the great changes, but it has also instilled into the hearts of our people that sublime spirit taught by our Savior-that "we should do unto others as we would wish others to do unto us." We realize that doing good to others is twice blessed, it blesses him that gives and him that receives. The mo-

The world is learning, to its infinite astonishment, that big business, like small business, requires neither genius nor inspiration from heaven, but only a modicum of common sense.

To be successful in business, assuming that you are sensible and honest and not prejudiced against work, you must make or otherwise obtain something the people need or desire, add a profit, and offer it at a price people will pay.

When soft times departed, taking easy money along, many motion picture theaters lost their patrons and their profits. Some operators went bankrupt, but others adjusted themselves to the times and were saved.

Occupied seats at 25 cents, they reasoned, are more profitable than empty seats at 50 cents.

Railroad men, paid princely salaries for knowing so much, were slow to follow their example. Any cross-roads merchant could have followed the profits as the conviction of having driven his private machine recklessly, and was deprived of his driver's job for a period of 60 days.

Depositors of Closed Banks In South To Get $36,513,000

State bank depositors of the sixth federal reserve district will share a total of $36,513,000 when all of the 282 closed banks in the district have been liquidated. Ryburn G. Clay, president of the Fulton National bank and chairman of the district liquidation committee, reported Wednesday.

The report was made to C. B. Merriam, director of the deposit liquidation board, after President Roosevelt had called for a compilation on liquidation activities in all of 12 federal reserve districts, the chief executive having told the director that he intends to incorporate a survey of the situation in his forthcoming message to congress.

Mr. Clay reported that his compilation showed that thus far applications from 94 banks, with deposits totaling $17,286,000, and that applications are to be made immediately by the remaining 66 banks with deposits totaling $7,200,000, and 258 banks closed prior to January 1, 1933, with deposits totaling $29,313,000.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—(UP)—A 25 per cent reduction in import quotas to the United States and all other countries doing business with France was announced by Commerce Minister Laurent Eynac in an exclusive interview with the United Press tonight.

The minister said that this reduction would be announced officially on January 1. The remaining 75 per cent of import quotas—regarded by most importers as restraining trade—are to be negotiated by bargaining with the different countries involved, he added. Revelation of the one-quarter cut in the French import quota system came on the heels of the government's announcement that the 15 per cent surtax on British goods imported to France would be abolished on January 1. The surtax was imposed when Britain went off the gold standard and the pound dropped in relation to the gold franc.

The move was a signal for other nations still paying the surtax to PARIS, Dec. 27.—(AP)—A national funeral service was conducted today for victims of the Lagny train collision, whose number was officially set at 199 after the elimination of several duplicated names.

All were identified. Ninety-two victims remained in the care of physicians. Lawyers estimated that accident damages alone would cost the rallroad company about 25,000,000 francs (currently $1,500,000).

Leaders in the French parliament, the entire cabinet, President Lebrun, Premier Chautemps and others prominent in French fife joined grieving families to hear a funeral oration by Minister of Public Works Paganon.

The biennial province convention of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity in Georgia, Alabama and Florida was opened Wednesday at the S. A. E. chapter house at 850 West Peachtree street, and will continue today.

Thirty delegates, representing chapters in eight schools, are in attendance. The schools are the University of Georgia, Georgia Tech, Emory University, Mercer University, University of Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn), Birmingham-Southern and the University of Florida.

Cobb Torrance, prominent Atlanta alumnus, presided, and Charles E. Ingram, of Opelika, Ala., acted as recorder-treasurer.

Two national officers were present. These were Judge Walter B. Jones, of Montgomery, eminent suppreme archon, and Lauren Forman, eminent supreme recorder, formerly of Atlanta, but now of Evanston, Ill.

The meeting was taken up with a discussion of fraternity affairs in this province, and will adjourn today.

"The upward swings are still young. It must be remembered there is no way of determining the permanence of the improvement. Furthermore, the advance often is from a very low level of activity. Whether this fraction of 17 out of 40 calls for cheers or tears is a matter for individual interpretation."

Walton Newton, of London, told the same meeting he doubted if there would be any recovery.

"I don't think there is any going back to the never-never land of 1926, nor even to the days of 1913 and 1914," said the Briton. "We shall probably go ahead into something which at present is very difficult for us to envisage."

"There is no confidence," he concluded.

Many other speakers commented on "reflation" the "most important fac-tor" in the return to prosperity.

Lewis H. Haney, economics pro-fessor at New York University, urged that debts be written down to the ability of the debtor to pay "to allow debtors and creditors to know where they stand." This he said, was the way to end "stagnation."

Roosevelt Hears Plan Of Jobless Insurance

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(P)—
President Roosevelt and his aides studied today a job insurance plan advanced by Albert L. Deane.
Deane, president of the General Motors Holding Corporation, was accompanied to the White House by John J. Raskob, former chairman of the democratic national committee. national committee. and outlined, during a two-hour con-ference, his proposal for creation of a central insurance fund.

This fund would be built up by payments from industry in good times and used in periods of depression to tide over the unemployed. Deane would have it created as a federal proposition, authorized by leg-islation.

The president reserved opinion on the proposal.

NEW LOW BUS FARES ARE PUT INTO EFFECT

Leading bus lines of the southeast Wednesday put into effect their second rate slash within a month, bringing the bus passenger fares down to the 1.3-cent-a-mile rate recently decided upon by southeastern bus executive at a conference in Atlanta. The cut p. t into effect Wednesday amounted to a prescriptory 10 per cent. ent p, t into effect Wednesday amounted to a proximately 10 per cent.

The 1a cent-a-mile rate was decided upon by the bus lines in fighting a 1.5-cent-a-mile rate adopted by a number of railroads, but the reduction of bus fares to 1.3 cents a mile did not go into effect all at once, the new rates put into effect Wednesday carrying out in full the rate slash ordered by the bus executives, it was said.

the threshold of a New Year-you, Mr. Successful Man, will make the usual accounting for your business operations. You are provident in these business operations-you live in the present and plan for the future. Are you doing as much for your family?

"None of our business," did you say? Indeed it is. The most fundamental policy of this bank is expressed in these words-"The success of the customer is the success of the bank."

Our bank will work with you for your own success. It will safeguard your deposits, will loan you money when circumstances justify it, will further your interests in every way possible. In the same constructive spirit, the bank feels justified in urging you to conserve the fruits of your success for your family by doing these things:

- 1. Make a will-right now.
- 2. Carry enough life insurance to protect your family.
- 3. Consider carefully the executor for your estate.
- 4. Provide for the inexperience of your family in handling
- 5. Consider whether the bank can help your family after your death, as they are willing to belp you while alive.

Do these things and accept this, our sincere wish—that the practical need for these preparations will not come for many, many years, and that 1934 will prove for you and your family

She will be the first American fan dancer to appear in London. Miss Miller is presenting in Atlanta the same fan dance that was made famous in Chicago by Sally Rand and in New York by Miss Miller herself. Her shapely yet slender figure is perfectly suited to the dance, in which tantalizing glimpses of her white loveliness are caught between the swaying tips of the long ostrich plume fans which are her sole costume.

The show at the Atlanta this week is "Jingle Belles," presenting many clever novelties as well as clever comedians, shapely girls and many spectacular stage settings. Two performances are given daily, at 2:30 and 8:30, with reserved seats to be had at the box office daily after 10 a. m.

Friendly Counsel BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:
Half crazed from worry, I am seeking your advice. When I was quite young I married a man who was at the head of a large mercantile business. He was entirely self-made, having educated himself through business experience. I knew that he drank some but I was not worried about it. We used to have friends in for cards and serve cocktails, and I drank some with the rest. About this time my husband began to get on terrible drunks sometimes lasting a couple of weeks. He cleverly concealed the true state of affairs from his business associates and managed to keep up with his work somehow. But this was not to last long. A few months before our baby was born he became ill and DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: plot to discredit the federation (Tashnak), which has been working for the freedom of Armenia since 1890," said Banton.

Police have been working on the theory that the archbishop was slain because he favored recognition by the church of the government of Russia, in which Armenia is situated. Tashnak was said by police to be dedicated to the establishment of Armenia as a republic.

Banton said that in support of his statements he had sent the district attorney a history of Tashnak.

Assistant District Attorney James J. Neary said Banton's statement was "propaganda for the defendants." He declined to make public the history.

Meanwhile, officials seeking to trace the butcher knife with which the archbishop was slain held Nigal Odabashian, a shopkeeper, in $10,000 bail as a material witness. Authorities said he asknowledged membership have to earn my living.

ANSWER: ANSWER:

My dear woman, you are doing yourself a grave injustice in assuming the responsibility for having made a drunkard out of your husband. The fact that you took a drink with him occasionally didn't make a drunkard of him even though, in the light of subsequent though, in the light of subsequent events, you recognize that you made a regrettable mistake. You're not doing penance for this mistake when you continue to live with him, when you continue to live with him, but you are doing penance for having made a poor choice when you married him. This is one of the cruelist tricks that life plays on a woman. She falls in love and thereafter she is not able to measure the moral stamina of the man she loves. She jumps blindly into marriage and if her judgment was faulty the rest of life is one long atonement.

Perhaps you can give your husband Perhaps you can give your husband a fright by threatening to leave him, a fright that will bring him to his senses. An extended visit to your family might help him to realize what he is doing to his own and your happiness. Sometimes separation works a miracle. Talk doesn't do any good, a miracle. Talk doesn't do any good, a miracle. Talk doesn't do any good, a miracle. family might help num to reach he is doing to his own and your happiness. Sometimes separation works a miracle. Talk doesn't do any good. You have already said all there is to say on the subject. You have absorbed all the punishment you should. Then leave him for awhile, let him deliver his blows to someone else, let him abuse his business associates and his relatives and see how they will stand it.

The bottom was hemmed or bound. Using bias silk tape she appliqued the initials of the recipient of the gift.

"Blessings brighten as they take their flight" and long-suffering wives qualify under that head. Perhaps after having tasted the bitterness of being temporarily deserted the husband can be made to take a drink cure. A confirmed drunkard may have the best intentions in the world but he has no will nower and without stern aswill power and without stern as-sistance he is helpless to overcome his weakness, CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: Are there any men left who cling to the old ideals of morality, men who think about pure love, a home, a family, rather than racy good times I can't find them if there are. C. C.

She had learned to use the velvet or corduroy covers because the dresses had less tendency to slip from the hangers and land in a heap on the nangers and land in a neap on the floor. For men's suits there was no need for anything but the polished wood hangers. The men's clothes stayed "put" once they were hung.

Culbertson on Contract

Opening Major Suit Three-Bids.

BY ELY CULBERTSON World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Because there is no phase in the bidding which has given rise to more misunderstandings than the Opening bid of three in a major suit, the requirements for these bids, while they have not been changed, have been made more specific in the Culbertson System as at present played.

The underlying principle which must be grasped by the player in order that he may employ these valuable bids to the greatest advantage is that when vulnerable the major suit three-bid is a strength-showing bid but when not vulnerable it is principally pre-emptive. The requirements are:

are:

1. When vulnerable: a minimum of eight sure winners in the hand, including 1 to 1 1-2 honor tricks outside—in all, between 2 and 3 1-2 honor tricks. Most of the strength must be concentrated in the trump suit, so that far less than adequate the strength in the Research of the strength of the str

2. When not vulnerable: between playing tricks when not vulnerable may be counted somewhat optimistically, so that the hand may actually contain no more than six sure wincontain no more than six sure win

It follows that the ability of the Responding Hand to raise must be largely determined by the vulnerability factor. When the Opening threebidder is vulnerable, his partner may raise with about one honor trick plus, or with some trump supports and good or with some trump support and good distribution (such as a singleton and three trumps) if the hand contains some slight honor strength. When not vulnerable, the Responding Hand must contain at least two winners in order to raise and these must be in honor tricks or ruffing tricks. Raises of an Opening three-bid when Detailed instructions for making "dust protectors" may be obtained by sending three cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Nancy Page, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Raises of an Opening three-bid when not vulnerable must never be shaded. When considering a Slam try over an Opening three-bid when not vulnerable, its safe to safe the Responding Hand holds at least four honor tricks, including the requirements in Aces and Kings for a four-no-trump bid.

"Well, well," he exclaimed pump-handling my right hand up and down. "When they told me there was a party called Redd or Redmond-something like that—that I could be seeing, I never dreamed it'd turn out to be you, Gilly, me-lad. "Tis a small world and now ain't it?"

While I was agreeing with him that it was indeed a small world, he kept tossing explanations over his shoulder to the mildly astonished Moley.

"Would you believe it, now? That last time before this that I see this old timer here, he's working on the old Recorder and I'm in the homicide bureau there in town and the both of us are digging into more than one big case. And always the two of us colleagueing along together grand, which is what you can't, always asy for the flatfeet and the Tewspaper boys. And now away off down here at the, tail end of nowhere at all, we bump into one another and, like as before, it seems we're both due to get mixed up together in the same case again—that is, we are, as you might say, in a manner of speaking, seeing he ain't a reporter any more burget in the same case again—that is, we are, as you might say, in a manner of speaking, seeing he ain't a reporter any more burget in the same case again—that is, we are, as you might say, in a manner of speaking, seeing he ain't a reporter any more burget in the same case again—that is, we are, as you might say, in a manner of speaking, seeing he ain't a reporter any more burget in the same case again—that is, we are, as you might say, in a manner of speaking, seeing he ain't a reporter any more burget in the same case again—that is, we are, as you might say, in a manner of speaking, seeing he ain't a reporter any more burget in the same case again—that is, we are, as you might say, in a manner of speaking, seeing he ain't a reporter any more burget in the same case again—that is, we are, as you might say, in a manner of speaking, seeing he ain't a reporter

"I'll start back at the beginning." I told him. "When she was still comparatively a young woman, my mother age and so I get before they heave me out. Under the 'pension act I have my part pay. And I have some savings laid by, being Scotch on my mother's side, although old-fashioned, shanty Irish on the other. So I buys me a small place up behind Calverton in the middle part of this county, and me and my daughter, that's a widow, we move down there and settle. The disease of spying about and prying about is still in me after spending half a lifetime on the cops. So what do I do inside of six months but set myself up in a little shop in Riverhead as a private detective agency. And some business comes my way and I take on my youngest boy, and another boy, a likely Jewish kid named Shapiro, that's born sharp at photography and fingerprints. Well, pretty soon the district attorney calls me in to help him out on first one thing and another that's puzzling him a bit. So this morning, when the news of this jam comes through, they gave me a buzz and say I should be coming along to give it the once over."

"I'll start back at the beginning." I told him, "When she was still combarted as wildow down in Tennessee—a widow with one child. I was 7 years old she married. Her second husband was a widower from North Carolina name as widower from North Carolina name as widower from North Carolina name a widower from North Carolina name as widower from North Carolina of this jam comes through, they gave me a buzz and say I should be coming along to give it the once overling along the give it the season of this here by the heel of the sea?"

"I live here," I told him. "About four miles from here by thoroughfare and not quite so far cutting across lots. I quit the town before you did. I came down here and bought me a skeptical quirk. So I hurried along: "That's correct." I marked at this how his stubbly brows cocked up in a skeptical quirk. So I hurried along: "The girl—Miss Dane—is young enough to be my granddaughter. I was very fond of her mother say I was unfond of her mother as I was unfond of her mother as I was unfond of her mother's brother—this Uncas Cresap. But the mother married somebody else, a fine chap named Dane. In a fatherly sort

INSTALLMENT IV.

It would be all of 10 or 12 years and maybe more than that since 1 had beheld him and, naturally, in that long interval both of us had changed, But there was no mistaking Captain Patrick Percival Bras for any other human being—not that gaunt, gray thatched, ruddy cheeked man with his cynical eyes of a veteran thief picker and his nail brush moustache that was all turned white now but as close-cropped and bristly as of yore.

"Well, well, well," he exclaimed, pump-handling my right hand up and pump-handling m

"We did not."

If the harkening Motley hoped Bray would question me touching on the nature of this business, whatever it might be, he was disappointed. Because at once the captain, speaking as though to himself, fell into a sort of professional lamentation.

"Already this case has got a gummed-up look to me. 'Tis to bad all this mob of people broke in and smeared up the whole face of the earth with their clumsy feet and their dam' automobile tires. If there's been any tracks left on the ground or even on that gravel, they got wiped out entirely before ever we got here. And if there are any fingerprints on anything upstairs there, Shapiro hasn't found 'em yet, though he will if they're there. And for why was it done? For a new grudge or an old feud? That's as maybe. For to steal something? Seemingly there's no place for keeping valuables and from the looks of the place nothing was faken—nothing disturbed, even. . This young bike cop of yours—Clabber, Clammery—what's the lad's name?"

"Clabby." I said.
"Sure, that's the boy—Clabby." He indulged in a mild chuckle. "He's the eads these here cheap crime maga-

"Uncas Cresap didn't marry; neither did I. As a young man he went west. He went so far west that he ended up in the east. He ended up in the orient: China and Japan, India, too, I think, for awhile. About 12 years ago he came back to America words."

"There might be something worthy of consideration in such a supposition," speculated Motley. "We must leave no stone unturned."

Mr. and Mrs. Arkwright Honor Miss Knapp at Holiday Dance

A festive holiday air reigned last evening at the dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. Preston Arkwright Sr. at Pinebloom, their home in Druid Hills. in honor of their guest, Miss Betty Knapp, of Washington, D. C., a popular belle in the national capital. The occasion assembled a number of society's younger set, who were received by the hosts and honor guest in the drawing room, where a striking color motif of silver and blue prevailed in the decorations. Graceful silver wreaths tied with large blue satin bows adorned the mantel and were hung over the side wall lights. Garlands of silver leaves were suspended from the chandelier and silver candelabra held blue tapers. Silver and red decorations were used in the other rooms of the lower floor, where the guests were received. Urns of poinsettias graced the tables, consoles and mantels. Red Christmas wreaths ornamented the windows and garlands of smilax fell in graceful effect across the ceiling studded with red lights. Holly wreaths tied with crimson ribbon adorned the side walls, at the far end of the ballroom stood a silver Christmas tree topped with an electrically illuminated star and ornamented with bright red glistening balls. Adding merriment to the occasion were noise makers, confetti and gaily colored balloons.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Arkwright Ir. Judge and Mrs. Walter Colquitt and Misses Julia Colquitt, Laura Maddox, Clare the guests were received. Urns of poinsettias graced the tables, consoles and mantels. Red Christmas wreaths ornamented the windows and garlands of smilax were draped from the chandelier and silver and Miss Knapp was gowned in pale pink taffeta made along old-fashioned lines with the graceful off-shoulders. Mrs. Arkwright Jr., wore a gown of pink satin trimmed with bright red glistening balls. Adding merriment to the occasion were noise makers, confetti and gaily colored balloons.

The decorations in the ballroom of the club featured numerous red star lights twinkling amidst the glossy foliage of Christmas greens. Two beautifully illuminated trees flanked the entrange to the ballroom while at the extreme end of the room in front of the fireplace was another tree festoned with colored lights. Ropes of smilax garlanded the ceiling lights from which were suspended red lantern stars. Buffet tables at either side of the room held central decorations of Chrismas flowers.

Mrs. John Denton presided at the coffee table, which was decorated with a mound of poinsettia arising from the center of which was a silver epergne filled with red roses and white narcissi.

General King as Cadet

Nor would he say anything which might bring up the fact that he was the first Army player to score against the Blue team from New Haven. He mentioned the fact that he was the first referee to appear in the big bowl, the one in which Georgia had played that afternoon. And he said how very much he had enjoyed Georgia's victory

I recalled the old story that night there in the warm Pullman, with the snow outside. He was Cadet King then, and he was captain of the Army. It was the year 1895 and Army had the ball on her own 10-yard line. It was raining and the mud was heavy.

Cadet King got back to kick. He got that old-fashioned wet ball out a full 75 yards. And a few minutes later he bucked four yards through the Yale line to score the first touchdown ever made by Army against Yale-just to score on Yale in those days was quite a feat. Because Yale was Yale and Yale

He was captain in 1894 and in 1895 at the Point. And I rather think that one of these days, probably in 1935, that Army will come south to play at Athens.

Dr. S. V. Sanford was there that evening as we rode out of New Haven. And I hope he will renew his efforts to obtain the game and make it a memorial to a splendid gentleman and a great officer-Major General King-the cadet who scored Army's first touchdown against Yale in the season of 1895.

And who is Jim Browning? (Come, come now. Surely you know of Jim Browning, the 'rassler!)

This was ten years ago when Jim Browning had just come out of Farmer Burns' rassling school out in Omaha. He had big hands with nails on the fingers the size of nickels. And he was just beginning to learn to wrestle.

He had a big, wide toothy grin and he fell in love with a young girl in Nashville, Tenn-O-See. But he also fell out with Rough Richard Daviscourt, who was then in his prime and a tough hombre.

They rassled and they rassled and they had a real hate on for one another. And finally Jim Browning said he could beat Dick Daviscourt with his fists. Dick Daviscourt said he CHICAGO. Dec. 27.—(A)—King Levinsky hopped back on the soap box today to tell his public what he thought about English fighters in general, and in particular Don McCorkindale, the British South African, whom he meets in a 10-round ball.

Of course, the long grass or a bump of earth right behind the ball can cause the face to turn closed as it being moved away from the ball.

When this happens in the backswing the face comes down so closed in the downswing that it cannot possibly raise the ball.

By opening the clubface, even to the extreme, as the club goes back from the ball you will have little or no trouble hitting the ball properly.

This open face makes it much easier for the clubhead to cut right through the grass.

Moves Ahead GIANTS TO PLAY SPRING GAMES WITH CRACKERS

Yankees and Indians Are Also Scheduled Here.

Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, Dec. 27 .- (AP)-The world champion New York Giants and their American league neighbors, the Yankees, defied a local scene that was full of snow and cold today with simultaneous announcements of their spring training schedules in the

The schedules differ radically in their makeup, the Giants tackling 40 games, most of them against American league opposition and 14 of them with the Cleveland Indians alone, while the Yankees will play only 26. Of this number only 12 are against major league opposition, spread between three National league clubs, the Boston Braves, St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Yankees have definitely decided on the dates for the start of spring training. The first squad of pitchers and catchers will report to Manager Joe McCarthy in St. Petersburg. Fla., March 4, four days later than last year. The second squad, consisting of the remainder of the players, are due in camp March 11. The Yanks will leave St. Petersburg and start homeward April 1. Think for Reds' Pilot

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 27 .- (AP)-Four men whom Larry MacPhail characterizes as the greatest minds in modern baseball have become a sort of unofficial board of strategy for the pilot of the Cincinnati Reds in his efforts to build up his team for the 1934

The quartet is composed of Branch Rickey, John McGraw, Bill

Terry and Rogers Hornsby.

For they, the red-haired leader of the National league tail-enders confessed today, have been feeding him advice since he took control of the Reds not much more than a month ago.

"All I can tell about a baseball player," he admitted, "after watching him, is that his arm is good or wooden, that either he can or he can't get from here to there in a hurry, and that either he is a fine, upstanding kid or not.
"I probably know more about America's chance of retaining the Walker Cup in golf next spring than I do about the National league, but I have two advantages: Some fine baseball friendships and a good pair of ears. I can listen with the rest of them, and I'll have to admit I have done a lot of listening to these men since coming here."

It hasn't all been listening, however. There has been some acting as well, resulting in whirlwind trades that sent Lucas and Roett-ger to Pittsburgh for Piet and Comorosky; Bluege and Jeffries to the Phillies for Mark Koenig; Grantham to the Giants for Pitcher Glenn Spencer; and the purchase of Gordon Slade from the Cardinals.

The four strategists MacPhail looks upon as the outstanding leaders of modern baseball.

The previous high mark of Tuesday, 1,062 hung up by E. B. Whitham, is now relegated to second place in the standings, awaiting a deluge of big totals that will be attempted by those who compete Thursday and Friday.

F. W. Douglas pulled into the money position Wednesday evening as he ran some big games to a 1,055 score to tie Hambright for third place.

There is no doubt but that the handicap is proving of much assistance to the lower average bowler in amassing higher totals and is very popular with all of the participants in the present meet.

Coaches Dodd, McEver and Hackman, of the North team, are grooming Ralph Kercheval, of Kentucky for younting duties. Coaches Thomas, Walker and Stanley, of the South team, will pit Firpo Phipps, of Auburn, against the Wildcat ace.

With such giants as Batchelor, of Georgia; Torrance and Mitchell, of L. S. U., and Dildy, of Alabama, the southern line will greatly outweigh the northern line, which includes Maples, of Tennessee; McCollum and Creitzberg, of Auburn, and Laws, of Georgia Tech.

Some of the boys, of course, have been handling a basketball during the holidays. But the official opening practice will be held Monday. There will be time enough for about three good workouts and then the squad will leave Thursday for Florida and games with Stetson and the University of Florida.

Wynn Hard Luck Champ of Year

KNOXVII.LE, Tenn., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Breezy Wynn, University of Tennessee football star, laid claim today as one of the hard-luck "champions" of the year.

STEGEMAN GIVES SOME REASONS FOR CHANGES

the findings of the committee forwarded directly to the president of the college involved," Coach McLaughry explained.

Six reasons why football coaches don't keep their jobs longer were outlined by H. J. Stegeman, athletic director at the University of Georgia, who said that since 1922 a total of 91 coaches had served in two southern conferences, which have a total membership of 23 colleges and universities.

membership of 23 colleges and universities.

"What are the causes for the wholesale shifting?" he asked. "Simply these: The coach didn't mix with the faculty; he failed to add anything to the life of the community except to produce a football team; he failed to place himself at the disposal of the college administration: he suffered from too much specialization and ignored other sports; he was discourteous to newspapermen and they teous to newspapermen and they finally got his job, and he was too serious and unbearable even to his closest friends before unimportant closest friends before unimportant games."

MUST MIX AROUND.

To hold his job, Stegeman added, a football coach must do more than teach good, sound football. He must mix around, make himself indispensable to the college and help out in other sports wherever possible. The most successful coaches, he said, taught another sport besides football. Hours were spent in sideline discussions of proposed changes in the football rules for 1934, but as the convention broke up tonight with the annual banquet, no one had any definite idea as to which proposals would be approved by the national rules committee, which meeas sometime in February. The college football coaches themselves will be represented by a committee or 20 or 25, which will thresh out all proposals just prior to the rules meeting in New York and make recommendations. The proposals that hed the most followers York and make recommendations. The proposals that had the most followers among the coaches were these:

3. Leave the goal posts where they are, the team would have to try for the goal.

"The majority of the coaches are in favor of letting the rules stand as they are now," said Coach Harry Kipke, of Michigan, who outlined seven suggested rule changes yesterday. "However, a few changes may be made, but I don't think they will be very important."

President McGugin's

Address to Coaches. (Editor's Note—Dan McGugin, Vanderbilt coach and president of the American Foot-ball Coaches' Association, made the follow-ing address at the annual meeting which closed last night):

Acknowledgment is made by your president of the loyal co-operation of many members during the present year. On December 2 some 15 of the leading coaches, including Fritz Criseler. Bill Alexander, Lou Little, Gil Dobie and Dick Hanley met in New York to discuss the plans for the association and particularly to get up the program for this meeting. Some of program for this meeting. Some of these men were but a few hours from the closing game of the worries and trials of the football season. They

The biggest single asset the association has consists in Bill Cowell as cation has consists in Bill Cowell as secretary, who knows more about it than any of us and who is fortunately for the rest of the conches free from the responsibilities of married life and wedded to the success of this organization GREAT AGENCY. It has always seemed to me that the Athletic Journal from its very beginning has been a great agency in the promotion of intercollegiate athletics, in standards of sportsmanship and in stabilizing the coaching and washing the coaches appreciated and and in stabilizing the coaching and understood. It has done much toward making college administrators appraise the coach as a teacher and as an influence rather than as some poor devil to be fired at the demands of that element of alumni who always take from a college and never give anything to it.

The primary function of a college The primary function of a college The primary function of a college is to help fit men to enter upon life with character, enthusiasm, knowledge and power—a capacity for honorable leadership. The game of football is, of course, merely an incident in college life. It is purely secondary. It is never to interfere with the classroom duties and obligations of the student.

During the past ten years the game

During the past ten years the game has suffered somewhat in the respect of students and in public estimation because a few institutions have made because a few institutions have made the game primary and have deliber-ately set about it as something to be built up and made important. There has been considerable talk of recruit-ing and subsidizing and some of these things have been done. Nobody knows better than the coach where the re-sponsibility for this sort of thing lies. NOT COACH'S FAULT.

Where a coach has been active in recruiting it is because he has been employed by the college to do it. Re-sponsibility for proper conditions sur-rounding intercollegiate athletics lies squarely upon the administrative hoard of the college and its president. We all know that, of course. It is childish and foolish to blame the coach for it. I repeat the responsibility is

The slender New Yorker was not up to his best form today. His tee shots went off line several times and his putting was not brilliant, but he was never threatened by his 200-pound opponent. Dunlap was out in 38 to Jack Rudel, Montreal, 7-and 5. Shooting a 37, one over par, on the first nine, the former Georgetown University star stood 5 µp at the turn.

In a see-saw match which never saw either rival more than one hole ahead until the 17th, Eric D. Thomson, St. Andrews, N. B., defeated Halbert J. Blue, Aberdeen and Pittsburgh, 2 and 1. Blue was runner-up to Dunlap when the latter won the tournament last year.

squarely upon the college president and if he alibis about it or denies knowledge he should retire and let some better man take his place. Recruiting and subsidizing are on the wane. Perhaps the depression has had something to do with this as it has made our men more earnest and serious with fewer and fewer cases of ineligibility through scholastic deficiency, and probably it is being better realized that these things do not pay.

There are two regulations which will keep intercollegiate athletics wholesome and sound and they are: First, proper preparation for college as evidenced by ample and suitable scholastic entrance standards; and. scholastic entrance standards; and, second, full and proper scholastic performance after entrance. The more we think about it the more we realize that most of the things for which football has been criticized will fade from the picture if these two regulations are observed. Here and there some college president might set up a plausible alibi and disclaim knowledge of recruiting. But even though edge of recruiting. Football is a great game, vital in the lives of the lads of the nation. It is a laboratory where boys may develop and demonstrate physical and moral courage, unselfishness, enthusiasm, loyalty and self-effacement. It gives boys a cause. Its field is the most democratic place in the world, where race, religion, politics, powerts. where race, religion, politics, poverty or riches, cut no figure—where a boy is judged for what he does and for what he is. It also provides a fine example. Through the fall season several million youngsters in this coun-try are imitating their heroes on the football field. Smith, who probably will start at the other end, had a sore shoulder.

Two hurriedly reformed tackles were being made ready for emergency duty at the flanks and Ben Palamountain and Harry Carlson are likely to act in relief roles, but they may have to wait until Alex Trompas, a light but fast player from San Diego, and Dave Packard, from Pueblo, Col., show what they can do. Keith Topping, a basketball star, has shown to good advantage in practice.

The Stanford coaches were busy, too, warming up extra centers. With Wes Muller probably out of the lime up, it was possible Bill Bates might be called on to go through. Lee Blanchard, however, has shown himself a first-class defensive center, and Alf Brandin, a big, fast Pasadena boy, can be used if necessary.

The Atlanta Federation of Trades voted unanimously Wednesday night to oppose any reduction of wages of public works employes of the country and city to take care of relief during the next few months. Several delegates said that proposals had been made that such funds would be raised through reduction of incomes of workers being paid from relief funds.

It also was voted that the old basic rate of pay be restored to the public works employes effective the first of the year, and that nothing more than a 10 per cent reduction be exacted at a later date during next year.

With the close of the year 1933 the postoffice known as Kinderlou, located about eight miles west of Valdosta on Federal Highway No. 84, will close and patrons will be served by rural carrier from the Valdosta office.

Kinderlou was established by the late George R. McRae, who carried on a large crate manufacturing plant, farming and naval stores operations. The industrial activities long ago ceased and Kinderlou became the center of a pecan producing area and later vegetable plant farms were established in that vicinity, the latter giving the office a large volume of business.

Under recently adopted governmental policies of reducing overhead expenses it was decided to abolish the office and transact the postal business through the Valdosta office.

But I'll never forget a six-foot rassler, weighing 220, his face black and blue, standing there and lisping "Yeth."

THE DEADLY PARALLEL. There were a couple of stories in the afternoons yesterday about a pal of mine, Major Trammell Scotts. And it's too bad they didn't get together. The deadly parallel runs thusly: The G.—"One would gather that Major Scott is quite a shooter in the field. He is. None of the country boys can outshoot him. It is rumored that the Major missed a bird back in 1929-but this has not been verified." The J.—(reporting burglars at the major's home) - "Surprised in the act of robbing the house-the men escaped in their car despite five shots fired by Major Scott, who came in the back entrance as the intruders fled."

Rough Workouts.

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 27.—(P)—
Stanford football players left the two a-day workouts behind them today and from now until the New Year's game with Columbia in the Rose Bowl will be content to practice once each day.

The morning workout was little more than tossing the ball around, but the drill gained momentum in the afternoon.

the net gain for the averages was just over a point and volume swelled to 3,075,488 shares, largest since Septem-Firmness in railroad bonds, main-Firmness in railroad bonds, maintenance of the treasury gold price at $34.06, wheat's rise of 2 cents a bushel and an advancing dollar were other features of the day in markets. Sterling sagged several cents on the heels of yesterday's advance which had accompanied the British holiday.

In stocks, traders apparently were encouraged by the degree of resistance displayed by utility issues, recently targets for selling. Support for leaders in that category developed early and soon the whole market was firming, most attention being given to motors and metals in addition to the power and light equities. There were however, some isolated soft spots and several stocks jumped about erratically. Favorable statistics on power, and steel production gave the market a comfortable background for its shift of direction. Iron Age reported a further gain in operations for the industry it covers and thought that prospects and the railroads made first quarter prospects rather cheerful. Output of electricity last week was higher for the previous week and the margin of gain over 1932 again widened.

November foreign trade figures lifted the country's favorable balance for the first eleven months to $177,000,000, the smallest in some time.

000, the smallest in some time.
On the stock exchange, American Telephone got up around 2 points before reducing its advantage to a major fraction, American Can, General Electric, Du Pont, Chrysler, General Motors and United States Smelting were among the better liked industrials. Central railroad of New Jersey, usually an inactive, dropped 12 points, obviously on tax sales, then reduced its loss moderately. On the whole, rails were narrow. Alcohols, United States Steel, Allied Chemical, International Silver, American Locomotive and American Sugar eased.

GIANNINI STRESSES GAINS IN BUSINESS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27-(A)-SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27—(P)— World-wide improvement in business was stressed today by A. P. Giannini, chairman of the board of Bank of America, in a year-end statement dealing with the economic situation.
"A forecast seems to me unnecessary," he said. "What we need today is a recognition of the improvement that has already taken place. Better times are here, and only the many false starts heretofore made and the confidence-shaking controversies concerning the president's recovery program have prevented recognition of this fact.

cerning the president's recovery program have prevented recognition of this fact.

"The improvement that has already taken place is subject to statistical proof and is a matter of common observation. Ten months ago trade was paralyzed, banks were closed, and unemployment was at the greatest total ever reached in this generation. Now our citizens are returning to work employment and pay rolls of manufacturing industries are up 50 per cent above 1932 levels; corporations are better; wholesale prices have risen sharply; electric power production, automobile sales, carloadings, construction contracts, steel production—all have shown significant increases. Hotels and restaurants are doing better. The cheapened dollar has stimulated foreign buying, promoted crop movements abroad and is steadily reducing the agricultural surplus. As a result farm prices, already improved, give better promise for next season's haveyest.

result farm prices, already improved, give better promise for next season's harvest.

"In America we have a leader who has shown an uncanny control of economic and political forces; with inflationists badgering him come side and the so-called "sound" money advocates attacking on another, he has held to the sanest and soundest course—a course that has kept the country behind him and has forced congress to recognize his leadership. I hope that no further obstacles will be placed in his path and that our American people will have the good sense to look about them and recognize the unmistakable signs of the improvement that has already taken place."

URB IRREGULAR IN HEAVY TRADING

By BERNARD S. O'HARA. NEW YORK, Dec. 27.-(P)-

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(P)— Tolume mounted on the curb exhange today under extensive switchag and selling for year-end tax puroses. Transfers approximated 774,00 shares, the largest turnover in considerable period.

Net changes in general were narovered midly from recent weakness.
Ietals were a trifle easy while slightrregularity marked dealings in inustrial specialties, oils and alcohols.
Shares closing fractional to around point higher included Aluminum ompany of America, American Gas Electric, Creole Petroleum, Electric
ond & Share. Jones & Laughlin, Iumble and Gulf Oils. Sherwin-Wilams and Safety Car Heating scored vider gains on small transfers.
Pan-American Airways and Genral Tire & Rubber sagged 3 to 4 oints, while Colts firearms added a cpoint loss to yesterday's drop.

BOND LIST FIRM; VOLUME MOUNTS

Daily Bond Averages.

BY VICTOR EUBANK.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(P)—The bond market turned over at a fast rate today under the impetus of yearend tax selling which brought a high degree of irregularity to most categories.

Liquidation for the establishment of 1933 losses and profits for income statements was met by considerable speculative and investment buying and, despite the spotty appearance of the list at the close, the average for 60 domestic corporate issues showed a gain of one-tenth of a point.

The trading volume was the largest since last July, sales totaling 21,145,000 par value.

News of interest to bondholders continued of an optimistic character.

News of interest to bondholders con-tinued of an optimistic character. The domestic gold price was again un-changed, but the dollar rallied sub-stantially in terms of leading foreign stantially in terms of leading foreign exchanges.

Transportation bonds, as a whole, were in demand. Many of the more active lagged and the utilities, with the exception of some scattered maturities, did little.

Among the better carrier issues were some of Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul, Rock Island, Colorado & Southern, Fort Scott, K. C. Southern, M.K-T. Pennsylvania, Frisco, Seaboard Air Line, Southern, Texas & Pacific, and Wabash.

Bonds of International telephone held gains of a point or more and held gains of a point or more and Postal Telegraph 5s recovered 3. Issues of Warner Bros. Armour & Co., and Remington Rand were up 1 to 2. Foreign obligations were mixed.

Big Increases Are Shown In Prices of Farm Products

WASHINGTON. Dec. 27.—(P)—
Improved farm prices at local markets, in some cases higher than at any similar time in three years, were reported Tuesday by the bureau of agricultural economics.

The upswing was led by grains, the bureau said, with potatoes, sweet potatoes, cotton, and cotton seed following closely. It reported grain prices as 111 per cent higher on December 1, than on the same date in 1932, due to a decrease in production, which cut the total supply. Due to a rye cropt 48 per cent smaller than a year ago, that grain was priced at 55.4 cents per bushel, or the price in 1932.

Onts were 30.4 cents per bushel, or cents in 1932, and cents in 1932.

NEW YORK. Dec. 27.—(P)—Net operating income of the first 53 railroads reporting for November aggregated $29,359,159, an increase of 22 per cent over the same month last year.

NEW YORK. Dec. 27.—(P)—Directors of the Chase National bank today voted to issue $50,000,000 in 5 per cent preferred stock and to reduce the common capitalization from $148,000,000 to $100,270,000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(P)—After an interruption on Christmas, steel production has rebounded to 37 per cept of capacity against 36 per cent a week ago, Iron Age said today.

"However," it added, "operations are likely to taper off as the year-end approaches and the time required for conversion into finished material precludes further production of raw steel against fourth quarter contracts.
